

NHD: Book Report

What stories are experts telling about your person?

For this piece of extra credit, students will have a chance to read a book about their historical figure and report on the book. The book students choose must be approved before Winter break. Students may not get extra credit if not approved before break.

How do I get approval? Find a book on your topic, either the person or the era that they lived in, and print out a description of the book from online. Turn in this printed document and write at the top "Your Name, Seeking Approval" and "Your Historical Figure's Name," so that I can be sure the two relate.

- You may Google search for books on your topic or ask the Librarians for help.

How will I know if it's approved? Your teacher will pass back your submission with "Approved" or "Disapproved" along with other assignments from your class.

Once I get approval, what do I do? Get access to the book ASAP! The Librarians may be able to help with this, or you may have to buy the book on Amazon.com.

Once I have the book, what do I do? Read and enjoy... then write a book report.

What is a book report? (Borrowed from InfoPlease)

Book reports are a way to show how well you understood a book and to tell what you think about it. ...[T]he following parts a book report are very common and may be helpful.

Outline

Introduction

Things to include in the introduction:

- The title (underlined) and author of the book.
- Why you chose the book.
- What kind of story is it? (Historical fiction? Non-fiction? Narrative? Informative?)

Body

In this section you want to describe the main parts of a story: theme, plot, setting, and characters. Then you can give your opinions about the book.

- The Theme is the main idea of the story. Some examples might be the importance of friendship or how to be courageous in a difficult situation. Tell what you think the theme is and how you know.
- The Setting is the time and place of the story. Is it set a long time ago or now. Does it take place in another country or in an imaginary place? How much time passes in the story – a day? a year? a lifetime?
- The Characters are who the story is about. The main character is called the protagonist. Who are the other important characters? Do they help or hinder the protagonist?
- The Plot is what happens. You want to tell what the story is mostly about. What is the main event or conflict? What things lead up to it? What happens as a result? How does the story end? (Sometimes you want to avoid telling the ending, or giving away the secrets of the story.)

Be careful not to re-tell the whole story in detail – you want room in your report to write about other things; instead, just say enough about it so the rest of your report will make sense.

Reflection

Once you have summarized the book, you can tell what you think about it. You can write about whatever opinions you have. Some questions you might want to answer are:

- Did you like the story? Why or why not?
- What was the best part of the book? Why?
- How did the story make you feel? Did you feel different things at different points in the story?
- Would you recommend it to friends?
- Would you read other books by this author?
- What new things did you learn from this book?

Conclusion

This is just a sentence or two to sum up your report. Give your overall opinion of the book and the most important thing you want other people to know about it.
